

Battery cabinet breaks down six times during the three-year warranty period

Can I claim a faulty appliance after 3 years?

If your complaint is that after 3 years your appliance has broken down with a fault that has rendered it economically unrepairable, then proving that it was faulty when delivered sounds very difficult. If this was the case, then depending on how much it cost, how much it's been used and under what conditions, you may still have a valid claim.

How long does a warranty last?

Many manufacturers give 2 year guarantees (such as Bosch) and even 5 year parts and labour guarantees such as Miele or 10 year guarantees (ISE10 and occasionally Miele). The longer the guarantee period the better. However, any guarantee given by a retailer or a manufacturer, as the famous phrase says, "is in addition to your statutory rights".

Can I use my warranty if my product is faulty?

You can also use your guarantee or warranty if your product develops a fault. If you're outside the 30-day right to reject, you have to give the retailer one opportunity to repair or replace any faulty goods or faulty digital content which are of unsatisfactory quality, unfit for purpose or not as described.

When can I use a manufacturer's warranty?

It will depend on the product and the fault, but you could be legally entitled to a free repair or, in some cases, a replacement by the retailer for some time after the manufacturer's guarantee has expired. Read our guide on When can I use a manufacturer's warranty or guarantee? for more information.

What happens if a manufacturer's warranty expires?

Your consumer rights will usually apply even if your manufacturer's warranty or guarantee has expired, and retailers can't ignore this. It will depend on the product and the fault, but you could be legally entitled to a free repair or, in some cases, a replacement by the retailer for some time after the manufacturer's guarantee has expired.

Why does a warranty provider refuse to carry out repairs?

A warranty provider may refuse to carry out repairs for a number of reasons - the most obvious being that the warranty didn't cover the particular problem in the first place. Check the terms and conditions of the warranty carefully as these will show what is and isn't covered.
