

Why is battery energy storage important?

Battery energy storage systems, which can charge when electricity prices are low and discharge during peak periods of demand, provide flexibility to the grid that enables a faster rollout of renewable energy. The technology is vital for balancing demand when electricity generators cannot match their forecast usage.

Is Europe a good place to invest in large-scale battery storage?

As a result, the total European large-scale battery storage capacity stood at just 10.8GW at the end of last year, according to Aurora Energy Research, including 4.5GW in the UK, which has been the most attractive destination for investment.

Where will battery storage be built in the UK?

Copenhagen Infrastructure Partners, the biggest supplier of battery storage in the UK, on Wednesday said it would start construction on the Coalburn 2 project, in South Lanarkshire, as well as the Devilla project in Fife.

What's going on at Statera Energy's Thurrock storage plant?

"This is the main hub of the project -- it facilitates the energy to the battery site," said Mallinson, project manager for Statera Energy's storage plant in Thurrock, which will be capable of storing and supplying two hours' worth of electricity to up to 700,000 London homes at less than a second's notice.

How much electricity can a 500 megawatt grid supply?

Each of the 500 megawatt facilities are larger than any other in Europe, according to CIP. Together, the three systems will be able to store and supply the grid with three gigawatt hours of electricity, enough to supply 4.5mn households for two hours.
